COOKIE CUTTER CHRISTIANS? A Joyful 'toon by Mike Waters

Accept one another, then, just as Christ accepted you, in order to bring praise to God.
- ROMANS 15:7 NIV

God's family - you are welcome, come and play a part in things!

..there are many members, but one body. And the eye cannot say to the hand, "I have no need of you"; or again the head to the feet, "I have no need of you." 1 Corinthians 12:20, 21

I imagine our first glimpse of Heaven will cause us to gasp in amazement and delight. That first gasp will likely be followed by many more as we continually encounter new sights in that endlessly wonderful place.
-Randy Alcorn

"Our lives begin to end the day we become silent about things that matter."

Miss_ion Matters (from Helen, Miss_ionary correspondent)

Having just enjoyed a brief visit from Fiona our oversea partner, I thought it would be useful to have more information about the region of Lugo Province of Galicia in the north west corner of Spain of which she spoke.

Until recently you could travel along 200 km of northern coastline through the towns and villages without find evangelical church presence.

Galicia does not fit our pre-conceived image of Spain. Instead of hot dry plains with rows of olive trees, vines and white painted pueblos where they drink sangria and dance flamenco, Galicia is lush, green, mountainous and has a strong Celtic identity. Here you are more likely to hear bagpipes than guitars and be offered octopus to eat than bull's tail or paella. It's the most remote Spanish province and has its own local language called Gallego.

Galicia has traditional religious beliefs and practices, making some suspicious of outsiders and non-Catholic expressions of faith, though some are more open minded and interested in thinking about alternatives.

The local vision for church planting vision is to establish 10 fellowships of at least 10 believers in each of the 10 counties of the Province. Workers aim to establish friendships and connections, and then build on these to share faith in a natural way. As people respond they hope to build communities of faith that can in due course become independent churches, with local leadership and their own outreach vision. Workers create free English chat groups, get involved in craft groups (patchwork, baking), provide social services and generally try to be visible in and around communities to become known and make friends.

Please pray for :-

- effective, culturally appropriate, methods of outreach.
- hope for those people struggling with the impact of the economic downturn (27% unemployment in Spring 2013). Spaniards need Christ.
- our partners working to get along side people, that they will have increasing opportunities for life changing conversations of faith.

For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me something to drink, I was a stranger and you invited me in". Matthew 25:35

Article Series 7 (pt 9) "A model of Faithfulness"

Please read 2 Timothy 4:9-22 : Team Ministry

Paul left us pondering how to go on when his, and other's time has come and gone in Christ's work. At times we may well ask, what needs to be maintained, developed or let go? He reflects on his own ministry in v8, knowing that the future is not in his hands and that very soon he will lose direct influence.

So he leaves the journey of his life with us to learn from. Demas deserted him (he no longer offered his services) and Paul wishes Timothy would come and break further his sense of isolation v9,10 (Paul aims to urge him onwards). This challenges me to ask where our LOVE and service is directed? For even those who seem secure spiritually can later forsake us and God. (See Revelation 2:4)

Others can be called to serve elsewhere v11. The gospel needs to progress everywhere! Mark, who once deserted Paul has made great progress and is now "helpful". (Acts 15:38).

Churches have needs, so Paul sends Tychicus to Ephesus v12. Timothy is a practical and fully committed co-worker v13, and Paul sends his own requests to Timothy. Clearly teamwork is going on and good strategy is required, for some will not only give up, but worse oppose God's word v14. Guard against them, Paul then asserts v15.

Ministry can often leave leaders feeling isolated v16. People can waver in their support through circumstances and events, but the LORD is constant and ever present to His own (Christ ones - Christians) v17. God's assurance drives our zeal, and carries us through every wind or storm v18. God is faithful, and suffering and trials are a necessary part of the journey.

So the Church must be awake, and confident in God's sovereignty, His abilities, and of course He should get our best worship. That is centrally why we gather. So we remain confident, resolute and faithful, knowing that God's word proclaimed is potent as it opposes the world's ways, pointing some to God.

Paul finishes off by thanking the ministry teams v19-22. We likewise have gospel partners to support and thank. Building stronger supporting relationships for Christ is very wise indeed. Then lastly grace is with us: God's grace: WOW!

I hope you have found this letter most helpful? Please pray that where God wants us all to go next will become clear and that many will come along too!

Your Team Leader and servant Gordon.

Section 4 - What happened because of sin?

40. What other sin are we guilty of as well as original sin?
Answer: Actual sin in what we do, say and think.

For out of the heart come evil thoughts, murder, adultery, sexual immorality, theft, false testimony, slander. Matthew 15:19

TEEN PAGE . . . LEGACY

January saw the passing of some big stars from the world of film and music. People who have left their mark on popular culture and who will be remembered for their achievements and the legacy they have left.

David Bowie was a visionary in style, fashion and music. Alan Rickman, (Snape if you're young, Hans Grubber if you're my age!) was a celebrated British actor. Glen Frey (The Eagles) and of course Lemmie (Motorhead), were both giants in the rock world. All very different in what they did and how they did it but all successful in their varying fields.

So, what legacy have Christians from recent times, left us? Here are two examples to consider:

Martin Luther King Jr, was an American Baptist minister, activist, humanitarian, and leader in the African-American Civil Rights Movement. He took on the might of the American government and society to campaign tirelessly against injustice. Despite the pressure, threats and violence, he maintained his peaceful, Christian outlook. This ultimately cost him his life. Here are some of his quotes; take a moment to consider each one and how they might relate to you and your faith:

- "The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands in moments of comfort and convenience, but where he stands at times of challenge and controversy".
- "Faith is taking the first step even when you don't see the whole staircase".
- "Our lives begin to end the day we become silent about things that matter".

The second example is Mother Teresa.

Mother Teresa founded the Missionaries of Charity, which consisted of over 4,500 sisters and was active in 133 countries. They run hospices and homes for people with HIV / AIDS, Leprosy and Tuberculosis, soup kitchens, dispensaries and mobile clinics, children's and family counselling programmes, orphanages, and schools. She said she voyaged for the first time into Calcutta's slums with no more specific goal than to aid "the unwanted, the unloved, the uncared for."

BASICS BANK BUDDY SCHEME

If you are not already part of the Buddy Scheme please drop an email to basicsbankbuddy@gmail.com and you will be kept up to date with a weekly email and shopping list.

Here's how she described herself:

"By blood, I am Albanian. By citizenship, an Indian. By faith, I am a Catholic nun. As to my calling, I belong to the world. As to my heart, I belong entirely to the Heart of Jesus."

Rather than be inspired, it would be very easy to think "How can I possibly aspire to such amazing feats? It would be easy to class them as some breed of super-Christian, with amazing attributes, impossible to measure up to, however in reality they were very ordinary people, with the same issues, problems, fears and doubts as the rest of us. Here is a quote from mother Teresa, at a time in her life where she struggled with her faith.

Where is my faith? Even deep down ... there is nothing but emptiness and darkness ... If there be God—please forgive me. When I try to raise my thoughts to Heaven, there is such convicting emptiness that those very thoughts return like sharp knives and hurt my very soul ... How painful is this unknown pain—I have no Faith. Repulsed, empty, no faith, no love, no zeal, ... What do I labour for?

It's incredible to think that someone who achieved so much and displayed so much love and conviction for her calling could have doubts in her faith, but we know our human frailties and accept that we don't achieve anything in our own human strength but when we walk with God and have faith we can move mountains!

So do we aspire to achieve as much success as Bowie or Rickman? Wealth, power, fame? What if you're a Christian? These things don't seem to fit into the Christian definition.

So how do we judge success as a Christian? Here are two verses to begin with.

"But store up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where moths and vermin do not destroy, and where thieves do not break in and steal." (Matthew 6:20)

"Yes, a person is a fool to store up earthly wealth but not have a rich relationship with God." (Luke 12:21)

Blessings Derek

ABUNDANCE by Jeannie Knott from Poetry with a Passion

Abundance is something you are, Not something you have.

Abundance is what you give, Not what you get.

Abundance is a heart attitude, Not a bank account.

Abundance is a life style, Not a house style.

Abundance is a concept, Not a collection.

Abundance is sharing what you love, Not counting your shares.

Abundance is knowing everything is loaned to you,

Not thinking how much you own.

Abundance doesn't depend on riches,

But on God's amazing resources.

Abundance is sharing God's wealth,

With anyone and everyone you can.

MESSAGE FROM RWANDA

"Hello Revd Gordon and all people of Dunbar Parish Church. We hope last year was good for all of you and we were glad to receive your Christmas/ New Year message for us. On my behalf and the congregation too we thank God who made both our churches to be united in Christ and now we are friends, brothers and sisters within almost ten years. Thank you for all the support, for things like the church building, children's gifts and the other projects. Now we have started Sarah's house and we are aware that you are fundraising in support for Kibungo nursery school. This really means that you love us exceedingly. A warm welcome to the team from Dunbar and wish you a merry Christmas, a prosperous new year 2016. May God bless you. We love you so much, take care".

Pastor Joseph

Rwanda News

A new year and a new future for Sarah and her two children. Only a few days into the new year work commenced in earnest on Sarah's house – news we have been longing to hear! From the photos we've received and advice from our partners Comfort Rwanda & Congo, the build is of good quality and value for money. The Rwanda team thank everyone who has contributed in any way to this project and, well, the smile on Maman Sarah's face says it all! Hebrews 3:4 says:

"For every house is built by someone, but the builder of all things is God"

IT IS NOT GOD'S WILL FOR SOME TO HAVE EVERYTHING AND OTHERS TO HAVE NOTHING.

Archbishop Oscar Romero

TRAIDCRAFT
Fighting poverty through trade

Traidcraft is founded on Christian principles. The organisation aims to live out the Christian faith through mission to fight poverty through trade. Since 1979 they have been working for trade justice for growers and producers in the poorest countries around the world. Traidcraft is a pioneer of the fair trade movement in the UK and jointly founded the Fairtrade Foundation. Their activities include overseas development programmes, trade policy, campaigns and trade justice.

Fair trade is when producers in developing countries are paid a fair price for their work, by companies in developed countries. The price we pay for products gives enough to producers so they can afford the essentials of life - food, education and healthcare.

Fair trade is based on partnership. The interests of farmers and workers are just as important as other commercial considerations. Traidcraft projects give people the skills, knowledge and support they need to earn a good income. People are taught how to protect the environment and how to use natural resources sustainably. Fair trade helps to improve the overall quality of lives, building self-confidence, self-determination, respect and also community spirit. Smallholder farmers and artisans become organised into self-supporting groups so that together they can develop a strong collective voice, access better services and demonstrate power in negotiations with buyers.

When people are paid a fairer price, they can have more control over their lives when times are hard, and worry less about how they will feed their families. Whether it's the extra cash in their pockets or being able to expand their farms to grow more food to eat, Fairtrade means many farmers and workers are able to fulfil a basic human need – to put enough food on the table for the people they care about, all year round.
